INTRODUCTION

Ira, a girl in her early 20s, got a job offer from Korea. She was designated the post of junior Software Developer at Copa-Data. After much hesitations, she decided to move to Seoul, Korea. Along with Ira, Veer also got this job opportunity. Both of them went to Seoul and started living together. For a very long time Veer has a crush on Ira, but he never confessed to her. He was afraid that he would lose a precious friend like her if he confesses. So, for a very long he kept his feelings suppressed.

Their lives in Korea were really boring until the day Ira met Byung Eun and Yeonjin. The four of them started hanging out every weekend and became kind of best friends. But things between them started to become complex.

To make the matter worse, Ira found out that there is someone who has been following her secretly for a very long time. Let's see and find out what happens to Ira and her friends.
